

S. P. Sets Special Fare To U. S. F. Game February 12

Total To Include Roundtrip Ticket, Dinner, Rally, Game Admission

Granting a special price to San Jose State students, Southern Pacific officials set the fare to San Francisco for the U.S.F. game, February 12, at $1.75.

This total will include a round-trip ticket, bus fare, dinner, rally, and game admission, according to Bob Free, chairman of the rally committee.

"Excursions have been held before during the football season, but I think this is the first for a basketball trip to San Francisco," Free stated.

With 300 signed to take the trip, a special dance car will be provided. At least 100 will have to purchase tickets to assure the trip, in which case a special car will be attached to a regular San Francisco bound train.

Dinner and rally will take place at Clinton's Cafe on Powell street in downtown San Francisco.

Kiwanis Club Entertains - Gridders

San Jose Kiwanis Club honored the glob-trotting Spartan football squad at a luncheon yesterday, fettering the gridders for the show made while in Hawaii where they turned back the two strongest teams in the Islands.

SPARTANS LAUDED

Chairmen and masters of ceremony were Kiwanians A. E. Bachrodt and M. R. Bookwalter, honorary squad members, who accompanied the team on the mid-Pacific jaunt. Lauding the Spartans for the spirit shown, Mr. Bachrodt stated that the luncheon would create a brotherly feeling between the club members and those traveling representatives of the city of San Jose.

Each member of the squad was introduced by Mr. Bookwalter, who praised the team and declared them to be worthy of receiving the invitation in the form of a contract to represent the mainland in the Island Shrine game next year.

DEGROOT THANKS

Coach DeGroot thanked the club members who have done so much towards supporting the team, and especially members Bachrodt and Bookwalter, and then in turn introduced Captain-elect Glen DuBose. DuBose presented Captain Les Carpenter with a medal from the team given as a token of the esteem of the entire squad.

Joe Rapose, winner of the recent California's Hour, and the Woodwind trio, also of radio fame, entertained the squad and members of the club during the luncheon.

Quarter's Second Noon Dance Today

Rain or shine, the second noon dance of the quarter will be held at 12:30 today, under the direction of Dick Lane, in charge of all noon dances for the quarter.

To be known as a "record dance", music will be provided through transcription means, with recordings furnished through the courtesy of radio station KQW. Public address system of the school will be used, however, under supervision of Bill Girdner.

If the weather seems suitable at noon the dance will be held as usual in the quad, but if adverse conditions prevail, the hallways in front of Morris Dailey auditorium will be used.

Miss Temple Talks To Nursery Class

Miss Verna Temple, instructor of the girls who take charge of the school's nursery for pre-school children, spoke to girls in the classroom nursery course yesterday morning on child health, nutrition and clothing.

Committee Puts Junior Prom Bids On Sale In Quad

Big Advance Sale; Junior Girls To Sell Remaining Programs At 11

Junior Prom bids will be sold in the quad between 11 and 12 o'clock today.

That the few remaining bids will be collected from individual salesmen who still have a few left, and put on sale in the quad booth was announced late yesterday by general chairman Jack Marsh.

COMMITTEE PLEASED

"The advance sale on the dance has pleased even members of the committee," stated Marsh yesterday.

"Late Friday afternoon all the bids had been taken from the Controller's office. We believe that we can get together between 35 and 40 bids which have not been sold by members of the Junior class," continued Marsh.

The advance sale of bids, according to Clara May Hanna and Virginia Hastings, members of the committee, has been the best in the history of the school.

SOLD BY GIRLS

Bids will be sold in the quad by feminine members of the class.

"We believe that Clara May Hanna, Virginia Hastings, Betty Bruch, Joy Erbentraut, Marie Blakely, Betty Baker, Frances Scott and Amy Silva will be more successful in selling the bids than Don Walker, Gruber, or myself," stated John Diehl yesterday.

All members of the Prom committee are urged by Marsh to be present at a special meeting around the quad booth today at noon.

Newman Club To Hold Open House

Open house will be held by the Newman club at the clubhouse Wednesday from four to six. Miss Alice Schween, new director of the organization, will be chairman.

Students, whether or not they are members of the Newman club, are invited to attend the open house. Bowling, ping pong, and dancing will be the entertainment of the afternoon.

Virginia Perry, president of the Newman club, announces that bids for the invitational winter semi-formal which will be held next month will be issued at the Open house Wednesday.

International Relations Club Invites Student Attendance At Meet

In order to stimulate interest in associations between races, the International Relations club has invited every interested student to attend their weekly meeting which will be held at four o'clock on Wednesday in Room 24.

One of the foremost campus organizations of last year, the club suspended activities last fall quarter due to a dearth of members. Interest in the club has again risen, and they have been functioning since the beginning of this quarter.

P. E. Department To Present Spartan Revue In Auditorium Feb. 3

Gil Bishop Produces 1937 Edition; California's Hour Participants, Portal And Sweeney, Orchestra Feature Show

Having silently laid plans for these many weeks, Impressario Gil Bishop, formally known as Graduate Manager C. Gilbert Bishop, yesterday announced to the San Jose State college campus at large that the second edition, the 1937 number of the annual "Spartan Revue" will be presented by the men's Physical Education Majors on Wednesday evening, February 3.

Free Student Admittance To Plays

Free student admittance to all plays on Wednesday and Thursday evenings has been announced by Mr. Hugh Gillis, director of Dramatics, beginning with "Spring Dance" February 10, 11, and 12.

During the week before the play's production, students who wish to attend must present their student body cards at the Controller's office, where they may reserve tickets.

RESERVE TICKETS

On the night of the presentation, these reserved tickets will be given out at the door of the Little Theater before 8:00 o'clock. After this hour tickets will no longer be held.

On Friday evenings students will be charged 25 cents; on any night outsiders will be admitted for 50 cents.

GIRLS' SCHOOL

With Gary Simpson, Vivien Wood, Harold Randle, Ona Hardy, June Chestnut, and Lavelle Smith in leading roles, "Spring Dance" should be quite successful with college students inasmuch as the action takes place in a girls' boarding school at a time when a number of Yale men have been invited for the school's spring dance.

Written by Philip Barry, this play is a fast modern comedy with many crazy situations, states Mr. Gillis. Assisting in direction of this play will be Bill Gordon, while Pete Mingrone will be stage manager.

Coleman Studios To Leave Today

La Torre proofs will be available for the last time today.

According to Editor Robert Rector, the Coleman Studios of Oakland will quit the campus at 5 p.m. this evening.

All students who have not received their proofs are urged to do so immediately, as selections for the yearbook pictures should be made while the studios are still on the campus.

According to Editor Rector, those students who can not obtain their proofs today, but who would like to make a selection for their annual picture, may do so by traveling to Oakland and the Coleman Studios any time before the first of March.

Mrs. Walsh Supervises

Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh, Education instructor, last week observed student teachers in San Benito and Monterey counties.

Girls interviewed were Elizabeth Dooling in San Benito, Anita Wefertling, Gonzales; Ann Stoffel, Monterey.

Headlining old favorites, such as the adagio dance team of Sweeney and Portal, and new campus talent, according to Bishop, major-domo of the show last year, the 1937 version should provide a good show at Morris Dailey auditorium.

Tentative arrangements of the revue will feature the participants of the "California's Hour", The Woodwind Trio, Musketeers, Miss Bruce Wilbur, and Joe Rapose. These performers will be part of an entire unit, consisting of a thirteen piece orchestra, a total of twenty acts, blackouts, solos, and a series of dancing routines.

The dance routines, according to reports, bring to light the terpsichorean skill of the members of the varsity football squad, which will attempt to exhibit variations of the Hawaiian dances learned in the Islands.

DeWitt Portal, boxing and frosh football mentor, handles the role of master of ceremonies for this second annual revue given by the physical education group.

Poytress Speaks On Administration

Political and economic problems facing the administration as President Roosevelt goes into his second term of office will be the basis of the talk to be given by Dr. William Poytress, head of the social science department, in his weekly lecture to the Behind the News class this morning at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Poytress said he will discuss, in particular, the outlook of the present labor and social problems. This class will include possibilities in labor strikes throughout the country, including the San Francisco waterfront strike and the "General Motors 'sit down strike'" in the east.

Under the economic phase discussion will follow the trend which the Social Securities Act is liable to take under the administration.

Possibility of Roosevelt either turning to the right or left wing of the government will occupy a part of the discussion, Poytress said.

In his speech of last week Dr. Poytress discussed the outcome of the political situations in Europe at the present time, and the possibility of other nations becoming involved in the Spanish civil war.

Sheer Negligence---

Responsibilities can be listed in two categories—those that are wished upon us, and those we seek for ourselves. But regardless of the head under which they fall, the duties concerned cannot be neglected without disrupting the normal routine.

And to detour from the "usual path" breeds confusion.

Admitted, yes, that changes become necessary from time to time, but we do not hesitate in assuming that the non-appearance of yell leaders at important athletic contests has not become a necessary change.

In short, the whole story can be told in seven words.. WHERE WERE THE YELL LEADERS SATURDAY NIGHT?

One yell leader was elected at the start of the Fall quarter. Two assistants were appointed to aid their chief. That makes three, if our calculations are correct.

What happens at Saturday's game with the University of San Francisco?

Approximately 2000 fans turn-out to see the Spartans and the Dons fight it out. We venture to say that 1000 of those enthusiasts were San Jose State students.

Did they 'go sad' on that determined Gold and White team? THEY DID NOT! THOSE 1000 YELLED THEIR HEARTS OUT—THEY STOOD UP ON THE SEATS IN FRONT OF THEM AND CHEERED LIKED MANIACS.

We ask just this. COULDN'T ONE OF THOSE THREE YELL LEADERS HAVE BEEN THERE?

Already we can hear three distinct "No's", with three impregnable alibis echoing not far behind, which brings us back to the topic of "Responsibilities".

Out of that trio of yell leaders, someone should have made an appearance.

To say the least, let's hope it doesn't happen again.

Just Among Ourselves

By Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie

"CAMPUS HEADS CONDEMN SMOKING". I'm afraid that banner line in the Daily Thursday morning overshot the mark. It was sensational, of course, and it probably did inspire mingled cheers and sneers, but I doubt it it represented the real spirit of that Organization's meeting Wednesday evening. The supporting write-up was excellent. I doubt if it warranted that rather misleading head.

It was a good meeting. Most of the leaders of the campus were there. They seemed to reflect the whole range of student attitude from those who hate to see anyone else look comfortable to those who think their own desires and habits take precedence in all situations.

I was agreeably impressed by the fine, friendly expression of opinion, by the give and take of the discussion.

It was largely an upper division group, I should judge, and most of those present had been in the college two years or more. If we are transients on the campus it makes a difference in our feeling of responsibility. One of our difficulties at San Jose has always been our large lower division and our somewhat smaller upper division. So many students are here only a short time that it is impossible to inspire a general sense of belonging. Many of our people are looking forward to a change of colleges and live in the future rather than in the present. That condition merely adds to the responsibility of the four-year students, those who plan to graduate and who will ever afterward claim San Jose State as their college home. The personality of any college is largely in the hands of the graduates.

Quite simply, and I hope sensibly, I am in favor of having a place where students may smoke if they wish to. Also another place where those who do not wish to smoke may be free from annoyance. While the great majority of us are considerate and truly interested in the appearance and safety of college property, there is always that careless individual who makes it necessary to limit the general freedom.

Accidents and unnecessary damage are bound to happen in any group as large as ours. While I don't believe in limiting all of us for the careless selfishness, the poor habits, and downright stupidity of a few, it is a condition we have to meet and must consider it simply as a part of our responsibility. It is too bad to have to determine the personality of the college on their account, but we cannot risk life and property if we can avoid it. Those who are considerate, well mannered, and intelligent will understand and accept these conditions. I honestly believe we are making good progress and building solidly for the future.

NOTICE

Pictures taken on the Hawaiian Islands trip will be shown in Room 112 of the Science building at 7:30 Thursday evening. All those who took the trip are cordially invited. Others wishing to attend may do so by showing an invitation from any member of the squad that made the trip.

Special Council Meeting Called Off By Becker

Award List, Discussion Of Budgets Is Postponed Until Next Week

Special session of the student council which was called for last night by Student Body President Paul Becker failed to materialize due to the absence of Neil Thomas, controller of student affairs.

According to Becker, Thomas' presence was needed to decide discussions of budgets, which the council plans to study in an effort to better understand the formulation of budgets for the year 1937-38.

AWARD SYSTEM

Also carried over from last week, and slated to come to attention last night were athletic awards for the fall quarter. Submitted last Monday night by Graduate Manager C. Gilbert Bishop, the award list was tabled pending study of the list and of the award system. The list concerned awards from football, soccer, and water polo.

APPROPRIATION

Also being held over through the council's failure to meet was an appropriation petitioned for by Ray Ruf, music manager. The allotment concerned funds to go into the annual music creative writing contest.

These topics will formulate the body of discussion of the next meeting, which should see them finished if Mr. Thomas is able to attend, or if they decide to go ahead without him.

(NOTE: Not meant as competition for either Charles Leong's or Jim Bailey's columns. This is merely a revival of "Stuff N' Things", which appeared a few times in the Daily last year.)

Sometimes the profs really succeed in their attempts at humor. For instance, Dr. James DeVoss (known to intimate friends as Uncle Jimmy) was giving an example of a case of hallucinations to his class in Abnormal Psychology. He told of two old reprobates who were subject to the DT's. One of them was coming out of the bar as another went in.

"Oh Bill! We've got to cut out this drinking," said Joe as he staggered out. "I've just seen a lot of green lizards with red spots, and now I'm cured for good."

"What do you mean, you're cured," cried the other. "I see one of those things on your forehead right now."

Uncle Jimmy's joke got an uproarious reception from his class.

Something else that should be interesting to psychology students is the persistent manner in which girls shun the microphone as they pass the KQW studio on Monday at noon during the "Student on the Street" program. Since the girls' names are not mentioned, and there is no apparent reason for their shyness, one is perplexed by this behavior. Will someone venture to explain this in the Contributor's column? After all, there must be a reason.

Where's Girdner?

By JAMES MARLAIS

"So far as I am concerned," writes Prescott Sullivan in his Sunday morning column, "the Pacific Coast Conference can give its southern division basketball championship to Stanford without further fuss or feathers."

And as far as this column and San Jose State cage fans are concerned, the Spartans are the class of the Northern California Basketball conference. Three heart-breaking defeats at the hands of the three leaders and outstanding quints of the bay region, which very easily, might have gone either way, have not, in any way, killed a particle of Spartan enthusiasm.

Until the Spartans solicit the services of a towering cager for the defensive role, they must continue to turn out teams 25 per cent better than their bay region opponents in order to gain an even break.

A short time ago, just before the Stanford game to be specific, this writer in a by-line story on the Card tussle pre-write, wrote as follows:

"Here is a fearless prediction to cheer up court experts who will sit down at the conclusion of the season and ponder over San Jose State's all-opponent basketball team.

"It will be easy:

Angelo "Hank" Luisetti
Howell Turner
Art Stoefer
Dinty Moore
Earl Calderwood."

THAT THE CLASS of the Spartan competition, aside from the Stanford gents, is within the conference cannot be denied. Of the following stars, whom we prematurely choose as all-conference representatives, Ivor Thomas is the only one, who we believe, has the ability or finesse to break into the Card five.

Bill Rockwell, St. Mary's
Ivor Thomas, San Jose
Ed Nelson, Santa Clara
Frank Carroll, San Jose
Andrade, St. Mary's

Our reason for picking two Spartans on an all-star team from a loop of five teams that finds the Washington Square lads in fourth place, in brief, is this . . .

1.—this is a choice of individual performances, alone
2.—that San Jose State's losses can be attributed to the lack of weight on the three remaining members on the first team.

One may ask what chance this conference all-star quint would have against Stanford. The answer is, none whatever. And if I may add, what five men in the country could be moulded into a unit that could prove superior to the individual performances and unsurpassed team work of the five Cardinals?

And why, may we ask in conclusion, is the San Francisco Examiner, after several weeks of apparent freeze-out in which conference tilts received but three or four inches, suddenly blooming out with long stories and columns?

It was during the San Francisco Don game, when a small group of enthused rooters in the perpetual absence of the yell-leader, tried to whip up a cheer for Bill Crawford's brilliant performance, that

Spartans Meet Y.M.I. Quint

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1937

PROMISING FROSH PROSPECTS TURN-OUT FOR TRACK IN LARGE NUMBERS

To the victor goes the laurels—To San Jose State's 1937 track and field varsity, however, will go a long series of "lickings"—beginning with the inter-class tussles and terminating with the last track and field meet—when the frosh and varsity tangle in friendly meets on Spartan field.

MONTH BEHIND

Already a month behind schedule, Coach "Tiny" Hartranft has been parading his prospects around the oval in preliminary practice sessions—which in all sincerity resembles a candy machine with a tantalizing "extra" thrown in to make it a game.

Varsity members are out-classed many times in numbers.

Incomplete records make it difficult to name all the freshmen luminaries but the present list would warm the heart of many a coach.

GOOD SPRINTERS

Two ten-flat sprinters, who alternate between these events and the broad jump form the nucleus of the track unit. On the field, it will be big, 220-pound Don Presley, who will alternate between the weights and high sticks, in which he once, in his prep days, toured in 15.3 seconds.

Frosh track prospects:

Sprints—Harvey Brooks and Henry Vasconcellos.
440—Kirkley.
880—Ruble.
1 Mile—Ruble.
Hurdles—Presley and Moberley.
High Jump—Ed Vasconcellos and Barbano.
Broad Jump—H. Vasconcellos, E. Vasconcellos and Brooks.
Pole Vault—Sunzeri.
Weights—Presley.
Javelin—Presley.

Frosh Nine Start Practice

The freshman baseball players under Coach "Franny" Pura will begin their regular practice this afternoon at Spartan field. The yearling battery men have been practicing along with the varsity squad, helping in pitching and batting practice.

This afternoon Coach Pura will begin to drill his men as a unit in preparation for the frosh schedule that numbers some twenty games. As yet, the schedule has not been O.K'd but it is expected to be released later in the week.

NOTICES

All fellows interested in varsity or freshman golf must sign up with Bill Hubbard this week. The schedule is now being formed and unless more interest is shown plans for golf teams will be dropped. The Pacific coast intercollegiate golf championship will be held at Pebble Beach February 19 to 21. Freshmen as well as varsity players are eligible for this event.—W. Hubbard.

Will the chemistry majors fraternity, Phi Upsilon Pi, please meet tonight, Tuesday, at 8 o'clock at the Home of Mel Curtiss, 275 South 21st street.—Dan Bessmer.

one of the students propounded the following question?

"Does San Jose State have a yell-leader?"

I informed him that it was Jerry Girdner at which he suddenly exclaimed, "Oh, yeah! He's the guy they started to recall." Holding nothing against Jerry, however, and in all tribute to Howie Burns, one of the greatest yell-leaders State ever had, there's about as much comparison in their cheer-leading as between Mt. Everest and an ant hill.

INTRA-MURAL SPORTS

By WALTER HECOX

Jack, "Bound To Win" Phelps, made good his own prediction, Saturday, when he defeated Mel De Selle, 1 up, in the finals of the Intra-Mural golf tourney.

Although this match comes under the head of an upset in the minds of the Washington Square divot diggers, it was no surprise to young Mr. Phelps, who announced last quarter, when the tournament was in its early stages that he was a cinch to win.

It might be well to note here, that this column picked young Phelps to win as soon as we had received this statement. However, we must admit our intention leaning toward sarcasm. All due apologies, and congratulations, are extended to the new champ. We thought the only people who are as good as they say they are appear in movie characters.

Everyone who is interested in entering the badminton tourney should sign up before Wednesday night. The reason? The entry list will close that day.

STATE BATTLES CITY CHAMPIONS TONIGHT

FLASH!!

DREAMLAND AUDITORIUM, San Francisco, Jan. 25—Two State boxers KO'd their way into the second section of the annual P.A.A. championships here tonight when Dale Wren and Bill Moulden won their initial fights in the first and second rounds respectively.

Of the 13 entries from San Jose, only three fought, the rest drawing byes and postponements. Paul Gerhart, third State boxer to compete, lost a hairline decision in the 175-pound class to Perry Mann of Sacramento's Victory Athletic Club.

After thirty seconds of fighting in the first round, Wren, in the 124-pound division, dropped Earl Karr of Santa Rosa for the count. Wren seemed to have the edge throughout the short duration of the fight.

Moulden's fight with John Cardoza of San Francisco in the 156-pound division, was stopped in the second round when he was awarded a technical knockout victory. The fight was even up to the middle of the second canto, when Moulden delivered a series of blows which put Cardoza to the canvas.

Gerhart, in his fight with Mann, showed rather poorly in the first round. In the second he came back to win the approval of the ring-side fans, but the judges disagreed with the general consensus of opinion and after conference awarded the fight to the Sacramento boy.

Spartan Nine Prepare For Mission Reds

Coach Gil Bishop and his Spartan baseballers return to practice this week after their defeat from Stanford, to prepare for a double-header here Friday afternoon with the Mission Reds, popular professional team from the Coast league.

Inasmuch as this week's affair is only a practice tilt, State's young baseball mentor stated that every man on his squad, except Watson, would see plenty of action. "Portsider" Watson will take a rest this week and leave the flinging duties to Art Carpenter and Marvin Olsen. The left-handed chucker will start against Santa Clara the following week.

Results of last Saturday's contest show Bob Rose, outfielder slipping into the limelight. The young fly-catcher looked like a veteran both at the plate and in the field.

In this week's contest, the Missions will bring their "Rookies" and what veterans that have turned out for early season practice, to perform against Bishop's squad.

Bishop stated that he expected to start Art Carpenter on the mound, with the same starting line-up of the Indian contest.

Conroy, Ace Forward, To Be Attraction With 6' 7" Club Center

Tonight at 8:15 p.m. in Spartan pavilion, Coach Bill Hubbard's gold and white cagers will tangle with the Y.M.I. squad from San Francisco in a non-conference clash.

STRONG CLUB

Boasting the strongest bay region club team, the Young Mens' Institute will present an array of stars from many colleges and universities. Last year the club squad won the P.A.A. tourney and represented this district in the national tournament in the east.

This year's quintet has already defeated the Olympic Club and trounced the University of San Francisco in their first meeting. Later the Dons came back to reverse the tables and win over the Y.M.I., 34-27.

PLANS TO WIN

Coach Hubbard, although not sure concerning his starting lineup, intimated that he would use more players in this practice affair, but still plans on winning the tussle.

Eddie Conroy, often called the greatest club player on the coast, will, along with Irving Harder, six foot-seven inch center, bear the brunt of the offensive Y.M.I. attack, according to releases from the club. Conroy is named as one of the most feared players on the coast and is claimed to be one of the greatest all-around players seen in Northern California.

FORMER BRONCS

Frankie Lee will occupy the other forward berth with "Flash" Conroy, who is a former Santa Clara star. At the guard positions, Bobby Britt and Emmet Keeffe, former University of San Francisco aces, will attempt to stem the Spartan offensive tide.

Most of the men are veterans of the Y.M.I. quintet and are coached by Frank Needles who is instructing for his eighth year.

The Spartan Babes will open the evening with a preliminary against the Hollister Cossacks at 6:45 p.m.

Hobbyhorses, MC PHERSON What A Story!

The hobbyhorse lay with one ear cocked against a red spot of carpet. It looked up with a silly grin at a big, lumbering kid on the chesterfield who looked older than 21 but wasn't.

"That's Walt's," beamed his sister. "Yes, McPherson's. He used to play with Bobby's hobbyhorse—Bobby's his nephew—on Christmas morning. We bought Walt one."

McPherson's grin resembled that of the hobbyhorse.

"It's a riot when he's playing with Bobby, and Bobby wants it but so does Walt. You oughta see him."

I bet I ought.

What a story, what a story! Three sport McPherson, etc.

I'd of sworn that hobbyhorse looked up and winked.

Esquire, Reader's Digest Win In Radio Poll Monday

Two radically different magazines, 'Esquire' and 'Reader's Digest' are the most popular journals among State students, according to the "Student On the Street" broadcast held at noon yesterday over station KQW.

Interviewing passing students on San Antonio street with a portable microphone, Joy Storm and Gene Clark, who conduct the program, stated that 17 persons preferred 'The Reader's Digest' because its reading material is interesting and compact thus aiding the student who has little spare time for reading.

'ESQUIRE'

'Esquire' was a close second with 13 votes. The style, satire, and illustrations of this magazine were the major attributes that were pointed out by the students.

'Life', the new magazine composed entirely of photographs and published by 'Time', received five votes, and probably would have been more popular except for its limited publication, Storm states.

WOMEN'S MAGAZINES

Among women's magazines 'Cosmopolitan' led the field with four votes. 'Harper's Bazaar', 'Vogue', 'Good Housekeeping', 'Pictorial Review', 'True Confessions' and 'True Story' were mentioned one or more times.

In the field of newsmagazines 'Time', 'Literary Digest', and 'New Republic' received mention. Another 'Time' publication, 'Fortune', was mentioned by one person.

Health Cottage Roster Depleted

Apparently week-end rests in the Edwin Markham Health cottage went a long way in depleting lists of students out of school with influenza, for in comparison to 20 who were convalescing last Friday, today's roster shows only ten names.

Striking the campus early last week, and taking many students and faculty members from their work, the near-epidemic of influenza sent the health cottage lists to a new high for the winter season when a total of 25 were reported last Tuesday.

Among the faculty members who were confined to bed were Dr. William Poytress, head of the social science department; Mr. L. C. Newby, language professor; Mr. Dwight Bentel, publications head; Dr. H. A. Sotzin, head of the Industrial Arts department; Mr. Neil O. Thomas, controller of student affairs; Mr. Joe West, registrar; Mrs. Lillian Scott, secretary to Dr. Elder; and Mr. E. D. Bates, chemistry professor.
